ROBBERY WAS THE MOTIVE

Trio Ransacked the House
After Man Fell Unconscious, but Found

A powerful drug, dropped into his drink by one of a trio of strangers when his back was turned, was the cause of a year's illness and ultimate death last Sunday night of former Alderman Carl G. Foerster, according to the story he himself told a friend a few weeks after he claimed the drug was given him.

The motive for the administration of the drug, Mr. Foerster believed was robbery, he at the time having more than $500 in cash hidden in two cigar boxes which were concealed among about fifty other boxes in the cigar case. The attempt at robbery was made in the saloon on Twelfth street and Mormon Coulee road of which Mr. Foerster was proprietor at the time. Although the proprietor of a saloon, Mr. Foerster bore the reputation of a man of remarkably abstemious habits seldom taking a drink even in the way of business. He was known as one of the best athletes of the city and is said to have been one of the best men that ever served in the city council.

On Circus Day

According to the story told by Mr. Foerster to a friend on his return from Rochester, Minn., where he was taken for treatment and from whence he returned apparently cured, the crime which resulted in his death was committed the day Barnum and Bailey circus was in La Crosse last year. Shortly after telling his story to his friend, Mr. Foerster suffered a relapse and never regained his mind to the time of his death Sunday night.

As nearly as can be repeated after nearly eight months time the following is the story Mr. Foerster told his friend on his return from Rochester: "I was alone in the saloon the afternoon of the circus and had just finished counting up some money I intended to bank the next day. There was more than $500 in the roll which I placed in two cigar boxes. These boxes I hid in the cigar case.

"I was busy about something else a few minutes later when three young men, all strangers to me walked in. 'Hello Carl,' said one of them, and thinking that I had perhaps met them before I responded to their greeting. They were well dressed men and although I had never seen them before, I thought they were La Crosse citizens.

"After taking two or three drinks, one of them invited me to have one with the rest of them. Although I seldom drink especially with strangers, I accepted their offer. I set four glasses on the bar. They poured out their drinks and I poured a small amount for myself. I turned my back to put the money in the cash register before I took my drink. As I did so I thought I saw one of the men reach toward my glass. I did not notice this so much at the time as I did in thinking it over afterward.

"A few moments later, I commenced to feel queer, I fought it off but in spite of myself I grew dizzy. Then one of the men made an excuse to step outside. Then I heard him rummaging around in my house which is at the rear of the saloon. I started for the door to see what he was doing, but sank to my knees before I could get there. I reeled and fell. I knew no more until the next day and even then I could not get things entirely right in my own mind.

"My wife and children were away that afternoon and did not return until evening. They found me in a delirious condition. The men did not find the money in the cigar case although they rummaged the saloon from one end to the other, I have never seen any of them to this day. My trip to Rochester helped me wonderfully and my mind is entirely my own again but it was a terrible experience."

Had Relapse

Mr. Foerster appeared to be in good health for about two weeks after his return from Rochester when he suddenly suffered a relapse. He was taken to one of the local hospitals where he remained more than eight months or until his death. Although he was given the best of care

FIRE AND PANIC IN BOYS' CIRCUS

Little Raymond Guenther's
Tent Is Burned and the Flames Interrupt Acrobatic Performance

YOUNG ATHLETES ALL ESCAPE

Volunteer Fire Department
Employs Laundry and Rinse-water to Stop the Conflagration

That Raymond Guenther and two playmates are just boys, instead of angels, is due to the fact that tents don't need fire escapes and that rinse water is wet.

Raymond is the five year old son of Supervisor and Mrs. Emil Guenther, Fourteenth and Pine streets, where Mr. Guenther, in addition to his cigar factory, conducts a first class community store.

With the assistance of grown-ups the tent had converted an old awning into a tent on the lot adjoining the store. There yesterday afternoon Raymond and his diminutive friends established a circus. Raymond was to be the acrobat, and to costume himself for the part he removed his knickerbockers and blouse and stood up in the tent, a brave figure garbed in a sleeveless knit union suit.

A Bright Idea

Just about this time one of the other young Ringlings conceived the idea that some stupendous spectacle such as the eruption of Mt. Pelee or the burning of Rome would add to the circus day excitement, wherefore said youthful promoter touched a match to the tent.

The two visiting members alarmed by the blaze that shot fiery circles around the tent, hastened from the Great Hippodrome and scampered in terror across the street, but Master Raymond, intent upon his acrobatics, did not notice the conflagration until its growing heat gave warning.

To the Rescue

Meantime a young woman who clerks in the Guenther store, seeing the smoke and the two fugitives cantering across the street, and getting no glimpse of Raymond, rushed to the rescue. She had just dragged the little athlete from the folds of the tent when another woman member of the household, hastening to the scene with the impetuosity of a rescue hose company, precipitated a dishpan of water upon the boy and his rescuer.

Mr. Guenther, attracted by the noise, arrived upon the scene at this critical instant, and seeing his son dressed only in his underclothing, jumped at the conclusion that his outer clothing had been burned off. With a father's first-aid-to-the-injured instinct he swept an armful of freshly washed linen from the clothes reel, and in an instant had rolled his protesting hopeful up in a bundle of saturated laundry.

Tent Only Loss

The incident had caused a large crowd of neighbors and passersby to gather, many of whom paused to congratulate the elder Guenther upon the fact that the only damage done was the destruction of the improvised tent.

NIXON OF UTAH DIES LAST NIGHT

Senator Succumbs to Meningitis While Wife Is Racing to Him in Washington

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Funeral services in honor of George S. Nixon, who died last night of cerebro-spinal meningitis, will be held late this afternoon at the home of the late Senator, Rev. Dr. U. C. B. Pierce, chaplain of the senate, will officiate. President Taft will attend. Under the escort of committees representing the senate and house, the remains of Senator Nixon will be started for Reno, Nev., this evening. The funeral party will reach Chicago at 2 p. m. tomorrow and there it will be joined by Mrs. Nixon, who was on her way from Reno to Washington when the senator died.

The senator died after three Christian Science healers had been called in an effort to save his life. Mrs. Nixon had telegraphed here to Dwight Jones, the senator's secretary to call on the healers following the receipt of a telegram from the doctors in attendance, who said they had given up hope of saving the senator's life.

DUCHESS BETTER

MONTREAL, June 6.—The following bulletin was issued today by the three doctors attending the Duchess of Connaught. "Her royal highness passed a fairly good night and is making as satisfactory progress toward recovery as can be expected."

MAN AND WIFE BURN

NEWTON, N. J., June 6.—Charles C. Edgerton and his wife were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their cottage at Budd's lake today.

Romance Unable To Stand Financial Strain

NEW YORK, June 6.—From $10 a week to millions was too great a strain upon the romance of Frederick H. Crandell, nephew and heir of the late Edwin Hawley and his telegraph operator wife, and today he was served with summons and complaint in her suit for separation. When they were married in 1898, her petition recited, Crandell was a clerk and the pretty Adeline McManus was an operator for one of the Hawley railroads.

The millionaire discharged them both, telling Crandell that he would never get another dollar from him. Mrs. Crandell was doing time in the work-house when Hawley died. Her husband, who was earning $10 a week when she went in, was rated a millionaire when she was released and she said she had not seen him since. They had nine children, of which five are living, but they have been taken from her, Mrs. Crandell alleged.

GOV. EBERHART IS SCORED

Minnesota Executive Is Flailed by Temporary
Chairman of Democrat Convention

DULUTH, Minn., June 6.—At 11:08 o'clock D. D. Daly, chairman of the state central committee, called the democratic state convention to order. Mr. Daly said that this would be the last state convention of any party. The recommendation of the central committee that John Freeman be made temporary chairman, carried unanimously.

Mr. Freeman bitterly assailed Taft and Roosevelt and said that if what each says of the other is true, they should both be exiled. He also took a rap at Gov. Eberhart of Minnesota. "The people of this state have wakened up to the fact that they have not a governor at all. Has Mr. Eberhart been truly the chief executive of this state since he took office? No, he has been an advertising agent for himself. He has drawn crowds at horse shows, street carnivals and town meetings. That has been his chief work."

At the mention of Champ Clark's name Mr. Freeman was greeted with an outburst of cheering—greater than did the name of Wilson bring forth. But at the mention of the name of William Jennings Bryan, the convention went mad. Pandemonium reigned for several minutes. Preceding the convention, it was generally conceded that Gov. Woodrow Wilson would secure the Minnesota delegates to the democratic national convention, at Baltimore next month.

The Wilson supporters feared only a stampede by William Jennings Bryan. Frederick Lynch of St. Paul will be elected democratic national committee man. After the naming of the committee on credentials, the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock. The probable lineup of delegates at large to the national convention follows:

Delegates at large, S. A. Stockwell, Minneapolis; H. F. Weiss, La Crosse; A. E. Weiss, Duluth; T. J. Knox, Jackson; S. L. Buck, Winona; Con O'Brien, Brainerd.

TITANIC CREW ENOUGH

LONDON, June 6.—That the Titanic was amply manned; that had the crew been larger they would only have been in each other's way, was the assertions today made by Harold A. Sanderson, director of the White Star line, testifying in the board of trade inquiry. Sanderson admitted that the men might not have been as familiar with the lifeboats and their handling as they should have been, but declared that this was due to the great difficulty encountered in inducing crews to participate in boat drills.

BENASIK BABY CALLED

Florian Benasik, the three months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Benasik, 1303 Green Bay street, died of a complication of diseases at his home this morning after being ill only since yesterday.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Holy Cross church with Rev. Wozny officiating at the services. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

BOND IS SENT TO JAIL

Gets Four Month Sentence, and Held for Another Charge; Accident Reveals Second Wife

"Being a good fellow does not include leaving a wife and two children without support while you live with another woman," was the assertion of District Attorney James Thompson in county court today in answer to Bert L. Bond, who excused his action on the grounds of being a "good fellow."

Bond, a Burlington brakeman, was arrested on the charge of illegal cohabitation with a woman not his wife, while under treatment in the La Crosse hospital for injuries received in a wreck. He was sentenced to four months in the county jail on that charge this morning and bound over to await the action of the circuit court on another statutory charge.

Mrs. Bond Refused a Pass

Bond made his home at the residence of H. J. Bullock with Miss Louise Schilling as his wife at the time of the accident according to the testimony introduced in county court today. Following the accident Chief Mechanic Frey of the Burlington Railroad company received a letter from Bond's wife of Aurora, Ill., asking for a pass to La Crosse so as to be at the bedside of her husband. Miss Schilling was thought to be his wife and Mrs. Bond was refused the pass. Upon investigation she learned of his connections with Miss Schilling and immediately made complaint and swore to a warrant for his arrest.

Another woman wrote to friends of Bond from Galena, Ill., and being under the impression that he had been killed, asked for information relative to the disposal of his property. Nothing has been heard of her since.

Miss Schilling was immediately arranged in court and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. Her sentence has expired and she testified against Bond at his hearing this morning. Bond was held under arrest at the hospital until his recovery.

Pleads Not Guilty

The case was brought up for trial Monday but Bond asked for an adjournment at that time declaring that he wished to get an attorney from St. Paul to represent him. He was unable to get an attorney and was again arraigned this morning. He pleaded not guilty and declared that his being a good fellow concerned nobody else.

Sues Railroad Company

He was also given a preliminary hearing on another charge in connection with his living with Miss Schilling and was bound over to await the action of the circuit court. His case will be brought up at the October term of the circuit court. The charge upon which he will be arraigned has a penalty attached of from one to three years in the state prison or a fine of from $100 to $1,000.

At the same term of court his case against the Burlington Railroad company, for damages sustained in the wreck, will be brought up. He is suing for $10,000.

Miss Schilling was forced to furnish bonds to the extent of $100 to assure her appearance against Bond at his trial.

FIREMEN OVERCOME

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 6.—Four firemen, members of engine company No. 12, were overcome by smoke and carried unconscious by comrades from the burning Prokop-Szatowski furniture store here today. Four persons were rescued from an upstairs apartment. The loss to the building and contents will not exceed $15,000.

LORIMER'S CHANCE GONE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—That the total vote, which can be mustered in Lorimer's favor in the coming contest for his seat in the senate has today dwindled to 30 senators—18 less than enough to save him from expulsion from the senate was the report at the capitol. On this showing Lorimer's friends today continued strenuous efforts to persuade the Illinois statesman to resign.

MEN ADMIT MURDER

MARION, Ind., June 6.—Ralph E. Broom and W. O. Allison today pleaded guilty to shooting and murdering Wade Robinson, a storekeeper at Landeville, last December. Judge Paulus has not yet sentenced the men. The two murderers shot Robinson in his store in a holdup and made their escape under cover of night. Both were recently arrested in South Dakota and brought back here. Broom confessed at the time of his arrest.

Milwaukeean Loses Wife In New York

NEW YORK, June 6.—Mrs. Frank Davis, wife of the president of the Davis Gas Engine company of Milwaukee, was the innocent cause of setting the machinery of New York's great police department excitedly in motion last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis came to town for a day's visit. Not intending to remain over night they did not register at a hotel. They did not register at a hotel. Davis, having some business down town, left his wife in the park with instructions to meet at a later hour at the zoo. Davis arrived at the appointed hour and, not finding his wife, he went to the Arsenal police station in the park and gave the alarm.

Meanwhile, the innocent cause of all this excitement was waiting calmly at the gateway, watching with interest the passing throng. It was nearly dark before she suddenly realized that she was lost. Then she sought a nearby hotel, and settled down to await results. Just before dawn today she was found by a reporter, and the Davises were tearfully reunited.

WARDENS CHOSEN BY THE BAPTISTS

Next Convention Will Be

June 3, 4 and 5,
Next Year

AFTERNOON MISSION SESSION

Women Delegates Discuss Problems of Missionary Societies at Final Meeting

The place of the next convention of the La Crosse Valley Baptist association was this morning chosen as Warrens, Wis., at the business session which was the main occupation of the delegates. The date of the 1913 convention was set at June 3, 4 and 5, and Rev. R. J. Lloyd, Bangor, was chosen to deliver the annual sermon.

The service started out this morning with a devotional service, led by the attending pastors, and an address on teacher training, by J. R. Murtion, New Lisbon. Evangelism in the Bible school also came in for an exhaustive discussion by J. M. Wilson, Kendall.

The delegates also were addressed by Rev. C. A. Hemenway, who represents the Baptist Ministers' Aid society, the church's organization for the care of supernumerary pastors.

In addition, Rev. W. A. Billings, pastor of the First Baptist church, in La Crosse, took the pastors of the convention to the Y. M. C. A. this morning, and a "splash session," as one of the clerical gentlemen phrased it, was added as an attraction.

This afternoon the services opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. T. W. Gales, Ontario, following which there was a business session of the women's auxiliary to the church. Reports were read by the following persons: Recording secretary, Mrs. T. W. Gales; home secretary, Mrs. Charles Rydman; foreign secretary, Mrs. E. C. Davis.

The awarding of the banner for the most active women's missionary society in the group of churches in the association was also scheduled for this afternoon, as was the report of the nominating committee, and the election of officers.

The balance of this afternoon's program was as follows:

Address, Mrs. Emma Jean Batty, Chicago.

Solo, Mrs. M. S. Jackson, La Crosse.

Conference conducted by Mrs. Batty on solving problems.

JOHN L. IS ILL

WEST ABINGTON, Mass., June 6.—Tonsillitis and rheumatic gout have worsted John L. Sullivan, ex-champion heavyweight pugilist, and he has been in the care of a physician for several weeks. He is able to get about his farm, but he does not feel real fit and is fearful that he will be unable to do his part as a committeeman at the 20th birthday fête of the old town of Abington next week. His illness is not considered serious.

MEN ADMIT MURDER

MARION, Ind., June 6.—Ralph E. Broom and W. O. Allison today pleaded guilty to shooting and murdering Wade Robinson, a storekeeper at Landeville, last December. Judge Paulus has not yet sentenced the men. The two murderers shot Robinson in his store in a holdup and made their escape under cover of night. POWER COMPANY RESUMES SERVICE

Winona Cars Now Running on Power from the Plant at Hatfield
Dam

FIRST TIME SINCE OCT. 6

trous Flood Last Fall
Nearly All Repaired

With the pulling of a lever in the power house at 9:30 this morning, the great copper strand connecting the Winona Railway and Light company's powerhouse with that of the La Crosse Waterpower company at Hatfield dam, throbbed with electric current for the first time since the disastrous flood October 6 last year. All day today the street cars of Winona were run with the power furnished at Hatfield instead of the steam driven dynamos in the company's plant at Winona.

Water Still High

It is just eight months ago today that the storm, which left Black River Falls so sorely stricken, swept away the dikes of the great and supposedly indestructible dam at Hatfield, inundating the powerhouse and working almost irreparable damage. Today through untold efforts on the part of the company the damage has been repaired to such an extent that it was able to resume its service to Winona again today. The power will be available for La Crosse as soon as the construction crew is able to install the gates and abutments in the new dam so as to raise the water about five feet higher than it is running at the present in the canal to the powerhouse. The present stage of high water is preventing this work from being carried out immediately and it is necessary for the work to be delayed until the water goes down. When this happens will necessarily depend on weather conditions.

The cable that carries the power to Winona is the same one that comes to La Crosse, forking at a point a small distance east of Holmen. The Winona cable is now carrying about 1,500 horsepower and furnishes light for the city and power for the street cars.

W. J. Ferris, president of the La Crosse Power company, received a long distance message from R. M. Howard, manager of the Winona Railway and Light company, this morning saying that the steam power had been shut off and the company was working with the power from Hatfield dam. He said that everything was working in good order.

No Sign of Trouble

Mr. Ferris has been in communication with J. B. Rogers, superintendent of the work at Hatfield, all this morning. He received word that the plant took up its load without the least sign of trouble.

The work of repairing the damage wrought by the flood last fall to the dam and powerhouse was badly handicapped by the almost unparalleled cold of last winter. There were weeks at a time when the men could do not more than stay in camp and wait for warmer weather. It is expected that the work on the dam will be completed some time this summer if the water goes down. In that case La Crosse will receive service from the dam this fall.

SENATE HALTS MONEY INQUIRY

Refuses to Pass Bill Giving
Power to House Probe and Proceedings
Stop

NEW YORK, June 6.—Because the senate has not passed the bill giving the house committee on banking and currency more power to investigate the "money trust," Chairman Pujo today announced that no testimony would be taken at this time, or until autumn on the main branch of the inquiry. Pujo made the announcement at the outset of the hearing which was begun today with J. Lawrence Laughlin, executive chairman of the civil league as the first witness. Samuel Untermyer appeared as inquisitor for the committee, assisted by E. H. Farrar of New Orleans.

Pujo said that the committee now was without power to enforce its demands and could not compel testimony and it was deemed advisable not to try to take important evidence until all doubt as to the committee's power was settled. He added: "The committee considers it inadvisable in any event to conduct any far-reaching inquiry during the heat and excitement of a political campaign and has not contemplated any such course."

Promptly on time the republican national committee met at 2 o'clock this afternoon for organization, preparatory to taking up the contests in the various state delegations. The members of the committee showed plainly by their attitude that they realized the seriousness of the work before them, but the Taft men as a body were seemingly more confident than at any time since Col. Roosevelt precipitated his strenuous personality into the national political situation.

Rosewater Chairman

This afternoon's session was executive. The first business was the promotion of Victor Rosewater of Nebraska, vice chairman, to the chairmanship made vacant by the death of former Governor Hill of Maine. Then the committee promulgated the rules which govern the hearing of the contests. In the main they were a duplication of those that originated with the late Mark Hanna of Ohio, and provided for hearing the contests in alphabetical order, limiting the time for each contesting spokesman and providing for a vote on each contest immediately after its consideration.

The first clash came in the question of publicity in the hearings. Many of the members favored restricting attendance to representatives of the press associations, but other members insisted that all newspaper men should be present. There was a lengthy debate on this point, the first real debate of the meeting.

Some Proxies Present

When the committee first met there were several proxies presented from committeemen who explained that they did not personally desire to take issue in the contests against either President Taft or Colonel Roosevelt. Among these was Senator Scott of West Virginia.

Dixon Is Licked

Senator Dixon, head of the Roosevelt forces, privately admitted today that there was no chance for Roosevelt before the national committee. He said that he, personally, had received a telegraphed proxy from a national committeeman but that he would not use it.

"I would rather be licked," he said, "than be forced to enter the committee and make a spectacle of myself."

It was understood among the poli-

NORWEGIAN SYNOD OPENS AT RED WING

RED WING, Minn., June 6.—The sixty-seventh annual conference of the Norwegian Lutheran synod of America opened in this town today. It promises to be one of the most important conventions this synod has ever held.

The question of uniting Norwegian Lutheran church bodies will be the most important matter to be considered from the standpoint of the conference.

The question of co-education for the Red Wing seminary, while defeated two years ago, will again be brought to the front with possibly better prospects of adoption than before. This would mean that in addition to the 150 and 200 boys usually in attendance at the institution, there would be fully one hundred girls enrolled.

Helnie Zimmerman, at present the clouting king of major league, did his best to the Superbas alone by leading two rallies and tying the score with a homer.

In their runaway race in the National league the Giants are on their way to a 300 point lead. Losing quite regularly of late, Chicago has evened up the race in the American.

RAILROAD WINS IN FEDERAL COURT

ST. PAUL, June 6.—The case of the United States against the Northern Pacific Railway company, for alleged violation of the 16-hour law, was concluded yesterday in the United States district court, when Judge Smith McPherson directed the jury to bring in a verdict in favor of the railroad.

On February 14, 1911, the crew of a freight train running between Duluth and Brainerd worked sixteen hours and thirty minutes continuously. The delay was caused by the breaking of a coupling pin on the engine.

Judge McPherson decided that the road could not be held for a delay caused by an accident.

ELIEN AUTO SHOWS

NEW YORK, June 6.—Eleven cities—Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Boston and Buffalo—are included in the official list of automobile show places in the National Automobile Show circuit. The New York function is scheduled for Jan. 11 to 18 and the Chicago show for Feb. 1 to 8.

SHAKE UP STARTS ON ST. PAUL FORCE

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 6.—Sixteen members of the St. Paul police department were dropped by the police commission at a meeting this morning. Twenty new men were appointed.

The men dropped were Joseph McCauley, superintendent, and his son, Joseph A. McCauley, operator of the police alarm service, to take effect immediately, and the following men to take effect June 13:

Patrick Fallon, William Aynsley, W. C. Forrester, J. J. Michael, John Wolf, Joseph Basco, C. P. Thon, Thomas Galvin, D. J. Harrington and J. M. Pesek, patrolmen; Frank Werner, messenger; Peter Carroll, patrolman detailed in plain clothes; W. C. Matlocks, sergeant, and James Hammer, mounted patrolman.

"We have good reasons for these removals," said Commissioner Catlin.

WOMEN, CHILDREN LEAVE CHIHUAHUA

EL PASO, Tex., June 6.—Hordes of Mexican women and children are coming to the border from Chihuahua. Every train brings several hundred and most of the refugees have only money enough to get to Juarez.

Conditions prevail throughout the country south of Juarez and it is rapidly becoming depopulated. The last train from Chihuahua brought 300 native women and children and only two Americans.

It is thought a battle will be fought below Jimenez within twenty-four hours. Both rebel and federal armies have moved toward each other and are today within striking distance.

HOLD U. S. CITIZEN PRISONER IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., June 6.—Rebel reports from the front today insist that Gen. Huerta's federal army has retreated towards Torreon, presumably to relieve the situation here and that the rebels have occupied several towns below Chihuahua which the federals evacuated.

Strong efforts are being made by El Paso people to save the life of Gruz Ortiz, an American citizen who was taken to Chihuahua by rebels to be tried on a charge of being a Maderista spy. Ortiz was born in New Mexico and has been living in El Paso for a number of years, being prominent in local politics.

Protests have been sent to Gen. Orozco by Mayor Kelly and a number of citizens against his being held in Chihuahua. It is said the death penalty will be enforced against Ortiz.

PICKS FOUR WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The navy department was advised late yesterday afternoon that Admiral Osterhaus, commanding the battleship fleet at Key West, had picked the four battleships of the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet to be sent to Guantanamo. These vessels are the battleships Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio.

LAUNDRYMEN TO PICNIC SUNDAY

Employees of the La Crosse Steam Laundry Company Announce Annual Event

THE PROGRAM IS THRILLING

Exciting Numbers Will Entertain Picnickers; Will Drive to Rice Lake Sunday Morning

The male employees of the La Crosse Steam Laundry Company will hold their annual picnic at Rice Lake Sunday, June 9th. Following is the announcement made by the employees:

By a unanimous vote the male employees of the La Crosse Steam Laundry have decided to hold their Second Annual Picnic at Rice Lake, Sunday June 9th.

Our last year's experience taught us that the day is very short and to carry out our program in full, an early start is necessary. The drivers, who are very early risers and used to forming in line in front of the laundry, are the committee in charge of the transportation and will be at head quarters with transportation for the twenty male employees and the picnic supplies at 7 a. m. Any man arriving later than 7 a. m. will either miss the event or walk. We are sure that no one wishes to miss the Annual, so it will be a case of walk. Brother Hilmoie insists on driving the team to the grounds to show the boys how to put horses through a heavy drive and still have them fresh and vigorous. With Brother Hilmoie driving we expect to be at the grounds at 8 a. m.

The state does not prevent male employees from working overtime, so we will start out early, every man prepared for a strenuous day.

Mr. Tisdale has promised not to take any long auto rides over rough roads before the picnic this year. Last year he had to stand up a great deal of the time on account of a car-bump he was doctoring. This interfered with his fun at the picnic last year. It won't happen again this year if he knows anything about it.

Otto Brunke has looked over his church calendar and says there is no Preacher's Convention booked for June 9th, so he will be with us. C. W. Stine won't let unexpected company interfere with his attending this year. He has talked into a blank phonograph record so in case he does get company unexpectedly they can be entertained while he is attending the picnic.

Frank Krajewski has decided to take a skull cap along this year to prevent "Old Sol" from picking locks.

Our Program is as Follows: Prayer by Otto Brunke, followed by an address by our President, Geo. Albrecht. This will be responded to by Art. Books.

Song—"Wacht am Rhein", by the quartette, consisting of Geo. Albrecht, Art. Books, Jim Shaw and Bill Ledegar.

Solo—"I Love the Name of Mary," by Mike Lawler.

Song by the whole bunch, entitled, "We're glad were here because we're here."

Song by the Dry Cleaners, entitled, "How Dry I Am." These fellows are a very dry bunch, which is caused by their method of cleaning.

Foot Race—Free for all except Bill Ledegar who took all the prizes in the races last year.

Race between Bill Ledegar on foot and Bill Jansen on his motorcycle. We expect this to be a very interesting number, as those who ran with Bill last year are sure he will win.

Boxing Match—Between Geo. Albrecht and Brother Hilmoie. This is to decide whether horses or autos are best for delivering. Hilmoie has a very fast delivery and we expect some doings around Albrecht's nose.

Fat Men's Race, between C. W. Tisdale and Geo. Albrecht.

Lean Men's Race, between Brother Hilmoie and Otto Brunke.

Wrestling Match, between A. Solberg and C. Rewey. This will decide which has the better right to "Grandma".

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. I., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the mercurized wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face girlish-looking and healthy. Ordinarily mercurized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. American women may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drugstores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and devitalized scarf skin which are constantly appearing.—Woman's Herald.

NORMAL REGENTS VISIT SCHOOLS

Students Examined for the Giving of Diplomas; Coburn Players Tomorrow Evening

The seniors of the state normal school of this city on Tuesday were examined by the state board of normal regents who will pass on their competency as candidates for diplomas from the local institution. The members of the board who were here are Col. Duncan McGregor, Prof. Kittles and Mrs. Yeomans.

Miss Irene Reynolds of Connorsville, Indiana, has been chosen to succeed Miss Florence Hofflin, supervisor of art, account of the latter having resigned her position to be married. Miss Reynolds was formerly supervisor of art in the public schools of Connorsville, Indiana and comes well recommended and will doubtless prove a capable successor to Miss Hofflin.

Miss Bessie Hutchison yesterday addressed the students on the play, "Canterbury Pilgrims," written by the American dramatist, Percy MacKay. The play will be the first presented by the Coburn Players and the excellent talk given by Miss Hutchison gave the students a good idea of what the drama consists. On Friday evening at Myrick Park the Coburn Players will present "Canterbury Pilgrims" and on Saturday afternoon "Taming of the Shrew" and in the evening, Euripides' "Electra." Holders of season tickets are admitted free to any one of these plays.

Refreshments will be in charge of a special committee of total abstinence members. They are Geo. Albrecht, Art. Books and Jim Shaw. C. W. Tisdale will be chief chef.

Our after dinner talk will be a debate between Art. Books and Henry Weber to decide whether Dry Cleaning or Laundering is the proper method of cleaning. We have chosen the photographer, Mr. Fitzpatrick as judge.

At 2 p. m. the ball game will take place—the Launderers against the Drycleaners. Following is the lineup:

Launderers—Bill Ledegar, manager; E. Hilmoie, C. Rewey, Mike Lawler, J. L. Ward, H. Weber, Bill Jansen, Geo. Albrecht and Jim Shaw.

Dry Cleaners—Geo. Schultz, manager; Art. Books, L. Olson, A. Solberg, A. Thiele, J. Gibson, C. W. Tisdale, O. Brunke and C. W. Stine.

This is the most important number on the program and where all the big money is placed. We expect this to be a very interesting and lively game. The winning team will have all the moving picture rights. After the ball game we will all proceed to the lake where the aquatic stunts will take place. Here's where the launderers have the advantage, because they are perfectly at home in the water.

L. Olson will give us an exhibition of speed with his new hydroplane. The launderers will give an exhibition of fast and fancy swimming for the benefit of the Dry Cleaners. We will try and find a little pond for the Dry Cleaners to wade in and get used to the water.

We will now be ready for supper, after which Geo. Albrecht will dance the Salome and Bill Ledegar the Grizzly Bear before departing.

Warm in Winter Cool in Summer

No matter what its size, how constructed or where located—you can make your house a home (warm in winter and cool in summer), by having the walls and attic floor lined with Linofelt.

To make a house a home, an abode of affection, peace and rest to make it a congenial abiding place, requires absolute protection against the elements; and to make it genuinely comfortable it is important that the walls or ceiling of the structure be properly sheathed with Linofelt.

Linofelt is the only substance that will keep every room uniformly comfortable—the only substance that will successfully keep the heat in, when the outside temperature hovers around the zero mark; and keep the heat out when a 90-degree-in-the-shade temperature outside forces everybody to seek a cool retreat.

used in the walls of your house like building paper will not only save 40 % of your coal bill every winter but it will also keep it cool and inviting in summer. In other words, it will make your house a home in every sense of the word—every month in the year.

The 1/4 inch flax fibres of Linofelt positively resist the passage of heat and cold more effectively than any other known substance; more effectively in fact than 38 separate thicknesses of building paper, even if it were possible or practicable to make use of that many thicknesses in ordinary construction work.

When you build or remodel your home this summer, remember what Linofelt will contribute to your own and your family's comfort; remember the saving in coal bills it will insure—then call up our local agent and discuss the matter with him.

Or, better still, send for your copy of the Linofelt booklet of facts and proofs now while you think of it. Post yourself regarding the uses and cost of Linofelt, and let us help you make your house a real home—in comfort, satisfaction and fuel economy—before cold weather sets in.

THE BASEBALL SCHOOL OF DEMOCRACY

Jeremiahs who predict the decline of the national game, or who understand its social significance, can be giving little thought to the scene now to be witnessed daily in back yards, side streets, vacant lots and remote pastures. For the crack of the batted ball, the smash of the window pane, the trampling of flower beds, the mauling of the fully planted vegetable garden, resound daily, from 7 a. m. to dark, broken only by the inglorious interruptions of school and meals. There is a daily game in the lot next to the La Crosse club. Every one of our new "open spaces" is in constant use. So it is the nation over.

The youth who has reached the age of ten years without having struggled with some of the rudiments of curve pitching, or who cannot stop a grounder of some velocity, should be regarded with solicitude by his parents. It is to be feared that he would prefer to bury himself in the nursery with a book, reading how the demigods of boy fiction do things, rather than get out with the tools of sport and practice at doing something himself. Therefore don't be too fussy if your choice petunias are reduced to mulch, or if your window blinds occasionally lose a slat. Your boy is acquiring quickness of eye and thought, which are qualities that go farther in life than arithmetic or geography.

The back lot ball game is part of the boy's first training in democracy. He obtains experimental knowledge of what anarchy is. An overtone of controversy pervades every throw of the ball and swing of the stick. There is no authoritative tribunal, and the rules of baseball are quite elaborate. The information that has filtered down to kidhood from those heroes of the boy world, the grammar school nine, is very incomplete, distorted by the media through which it has passed. As a consequence an inning approaches the length of an epic poem, and the majority of games break up in dispute.

The boy by and by learns that productive results are obtained only through organized discipline and constituted authority. When the back lot baseball game creates an "umpire," and submits to his rule, it has acquired a truth which it took the race as a whole many centuries to learn. Large sections of the people, in fact the great majority of the world, have not yet acquired this truth. From this it will be seen that the social values of baseball are very large.

HERE'S A PROPHET WITHOUT PROFIT

"The campaign for the nomination of a republican candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Kenyon is proceeding rather quietly in the state of Iowa but it is not less earnest on that account. Former Senator Lafe Young is Senator Kenyon's contestant for the nomination—which is presumed to be equivalent to election—and late reports from nearly all parts of the state indicate that the popular Des Moines editor is likely to be returned to the place which he filled with signal ability during the short senatorial term following his appointment by Governor Carroll.

"Senator Kenyon has fallen far short of the stature which the people of Iowa have come to expect their senators of the United States to attain and a number of those who were active in his support two years ago are lukewarm now or positively opposed to his renomination. His chief activity in the senate has been the bitter campaign which he has waged for the unseating and humiliation of Senator Lorimer. Beyond that his record of public service is meager. He has not seemed to be 'getting anywhere' in the larger scope of his high office and it is not surprising that Iowa republicans are contemplating with some chagrin the figure which he cuts in the senate as a successor of such statesmen as Wilson and Gear and Dolliver and Allison.

"Editor Young is senatorial timber of the highest order and on anything like a full vote the republican nomination ought to go to him by a big majority. He looks so many sizes larger than the present incumbent that there ought to be no question of the result at the approaching primary election."—Leader-Press, June 1, 1912.

You say Kenyon's "chief activity in the senate has been the bitter campaign he has waged for the unseating and humiliation of Senator Lorimer."

You were not so much worried about Lorimer. What was biting you was "the bitter campaign he (Kenyon) has waged for the unseating and humiliation of"—Senator Isaac Stephenson, who spent over $100,000 to land his seat in the senate, to your advantage in the sum of $600. You forgot to mention Kenyon's attitude toward your barely-whitewashed friend "Ike."

By the way, you say he "wasn't getting anywhere" with his fight to "unseat and humiliate Lorimer." He seems to have failed in everything excepting that he has "humiliated Lorimer" and "unseated Lorimer."

But, by way of a prophet, you're profless. On Saturday, June 1, you predicted the defeat of Kenyon by Iowa republicans who "are contemplating with chagrin the figure which he cuts in the senate." On Monday, June 3, the Iowa republicans nominated Mr. Kenyon by the tremendous majority of 50,000 votes.

Still and yet, "The wish is father to the thought."

GRAND JUNCTION, Col.—Closed today—too many sons. This was the sign Henry Foster put on his restaurant when his daughter married secretly and his wife gave birth to a 14 pound boy within a space of a few hours.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Anvil Chorus
Abner Jones resigned his job, just because it made him tired. Sewin' circle met next day and decided he was "fired." Bushrod Peeler bruik his leg, fallin' off a lud of hay. That he was rip-roarin' drunk was told in the town next day. Ezra Spink walked down the street with a lady and, of course, People had it that his wife had decided on divorce.

Smith hired a stenographer, as his business had enlarged. And the tongues wagged ceaselessly till the lady was discharged. Mr. Peebles took a trip with some outside business men. Sewin' circle when it met, softly whispered "Soused again." Bilkins sold his touring car. Didn't like the one he had. And the word was passed around that his business had been bad.

Mrs. Perkins needed clothes and she started saving cash. Selling eggs and butter and cutting down her husband's cash. Bought herself a summer suit and a four foot Leghorn hat. Folks could not make out how she could "afford to dress like that." Life within the pearly gates will not please the anvil kind. For we think they will be told: Leave your hammers all behind. —Roy K. Moulton.

Force of Habit
At the informal gambol which was given by the Chicago members of the Lambs' club recently John Drew told of an actor who had the misfortune to fall off a ferryboat at night. Of course there was great confusion on board. The searchlight was turned round and round in an effort to find the man. He came up for the third time just as the light struck him, and from force of habit the actor raised himself and delivered a most ceremonious bow. Then the rescuers grabbed him.

The Bet Was Off
There is a difference between mosquitoes and gallinippers, as this story will show. In the steamboat days on the lower Wabash passengers were greatly annoyed by clouds of ravenous mosquitoes. And once a deckhand hearing a complaint from a passenger offered to bet $5 he could strip off his shirt, lie on his stomach and withstand the attack of the pests for five minutes without murmuring. The bet was taken.

The deckhand's back was soon covered with the hungry insects, but he stood it without uttering a word for four minutes and forty-five seconds, when the holder of the other end of the bet, seeing himself liable to lose, reached over and touched the deckhand's back with a live end of a cigar.

"This bet is off," yelled the sport as he jumped to his feet and grabbed his shirt. "I agreed to take on a swarm of musketeers, not a gallinipper!"

The Passing of Chivalry
Miss Italia Garibaldi, granddaughter of the famous "liberator," complained in Chicago about the way Italian women are sweated there. "When I see," she said, "the male employer, with all his vaunted chivalry to woman, taking such an unfair advantage of his female employees, I don't wonder that woman is beginning to sneer at man's chivalry."

"It reminds me of an Italian washerwoman, very industrious and successful, to whom a young man offered himself in matrimony. 'You love me?' the washerwoman asked. 'Devotedly,' the young man replied. 'Are you sure?' 'I swear it.' 'She gave him a searching look. 'Are you out of work?' she said.

Of course, there could be but one end to it. Powerful as was the twitching of the muscles, the involuntary drawing up of the limbs and arms as far as the bonds would permit, and most of all the clapping and unclapping of the fingers told what torture the silence was bringing to Young.

He burst forth at last in a wild flow of profanity, cursing Davis, cursing God, and still Davis sat there as rigid and as silent as the superior of a Trappist monastery doing penance. At times the prisoner's voice was raised to a hideous shriek, at times it sank to a pitiful sob, and all the while he tugged and strained at his bonds, twisting, turning, reaching, trying always to find some position in which he could gain possession of the morphine that lay on the chair just beyond his reach.

At last—it must have been an hour later—physical exhaustion conquered him and he lay back, after one last frantic struggle, weak and panting, unresisting.

The inspector arose, and, walking over to the couch, stood there looking down at him.

"Alec Young," he said evenly, "your whole game is up. I know all about General Farrish and Andrew Elser and the woman from Bridgeport. I know about Dora Hastings, who committed suicide in the park lake yesterday, and about Henry Eberle, who sent you the five thousand. I know everything that your unfortunate aide, Rouser, knew, and now I want you to surrender all the letters and papers in your possession."

"You will never get them," sneered Young, as I sat there marveling at the inspector's revelation. It was news to me that he knew the name of the Central Park suicide, and while I myself had found the five thousand dollars, I had not the slightest intimation that Davis knew from whom it had come.

"Either I get those letters," said Davis evenly, "or you get no more morphine."

Young laughed in his face. "You haven't the slightest evidence against me for anything. Without letters or documents you can prove nothing. You have no right to keep me bound up here. I shall get free and shall make you Rouser has told you, you'll get nothing out of me and you have proof of nothing."

"Very well," said the inspector, "no letters, no morphine."

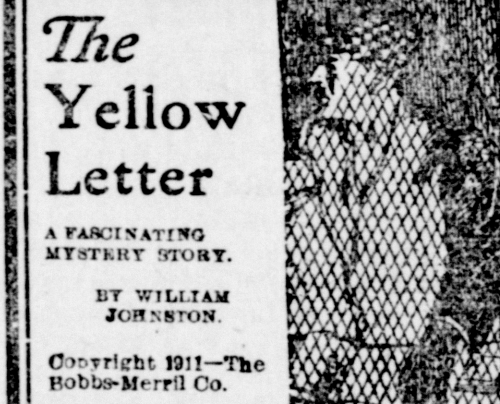

Turning away from the couch, he spoke to me in a tone as indifferent as if we had been camping together:

"Come on, Kent, let's see what we can dig up for breakfast."

We found the cottage well supplied with provisions, as if it had been the intention of the conspirators to make it their headquarters for some time. In a very few minutes Davis had some bacon fried and toast and coffee made, which he spread in the little lean-to that was used as a kitchen.

"So you mean to starve him, too?" I asked in an undertone, pointing to the couch.

"It won't be necessary," said Davis. "Take something in to him if you like. You'll find that the only appetite he'll have will be for morphine."

"Alec Young," he said evenly, "your whole game is up. I know all about General Farrish and Andrew Elser and the woman from Bridgeport. I know about Dora Hastings, who committed suicide in the park lake yesterday, and about Henry Eberle, who sent you the five thousand. I know everything that your unfortunate aide, Rouser, knew, and now I want you to surrender all the letters and papers in your possession."

"You will never get them," sneered Young, as I sat there marveling at the inspector's revelation. It was news to me that he knew the name of the Central Park suicide, and while I myself had found the five thousand dollars, I had not the slightest intimation that Davis knew from whom it had come.

"Either I get those letters," said Davis evenly, "or you get no more morphine."

Young laughed in his face. "You haven't the slightest evidence against me for anything. Without letters or documents you can prove nothing. You have no right to keep me bound up here. I shall get free and shall make you Rouser has told you, you'll get nothing out of me and you have proof of nothing."

"Very well," said the inspector, "no letters, no morphine."

Turning away from the couch, he spoke to me in a tone as indifferent as if we had been camping together:

"Come on, Kent, let's see what we can dig up for breakfast."

We found the cottage well supplied with provisions, as if it had been the intention of the conspirators to make it their headquarters for some time. In a very few minutes Davis had some bacon fried and toast and coffee made, which he spread in the little lean-to that was used as a kitchen.

"So you mean to starve him, too?" I asked in an undertone, pointing to the couch.

"It won't be necessary," said Davis. "Take something in to him if you like. You'll find that the only appetite he'll have will be for morphine."

Nevertheless, I took a cup of coffee and some toast in to the prisoner. A volley of oaths was my only reward, so I returned and sat with Davis while he ate. I myself had no appetite, but the events of the night did not seem in the least to have affected his. I drank only part of a cup of coffee, though he urged me to eat something.

"It is apt to be a long siege," he said, "and you must keep your strength. Our prisoner is a man of considerable will power and is not going to confess readily. If you will keep guard on him for a couple of hours I am going to sleep."

"Of course," I will.

"Under no circumstances," said Davis, as he flung himself down on the floor of the lean-to, "loosen any of his bonds, and pay no attention to his pleas for mercy. He has a winning way about him that is dangerous."

"You need not fear," I replied. "Remember the agony he has caused to the woman I love."

"And to many others," said I. "Speaking of that," said I, "I wish you would tell me before you go asleep how you learned where the five thousand came from."

"Rouser told me."

"I was not aware that you had any opportunity to talk with him."

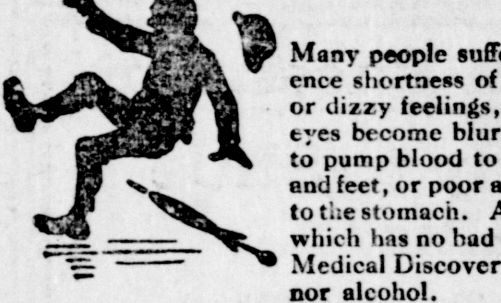

"I didn't," said the inspector. "I just used my eyes in the postoffice."

I thought I had used mine pretty well in the postoffice, but certainly I had seen nothing that would lead me to identify the person who had sent the five thousand dollars I had found in the cash-drawer.

"Don't talk in riddles!" I exclaimed rather petulantly. "What did you find in the postoffice?"

Davis grinned.

"Did it not strike you as peculiar that there should be over two thousand names and addresses in the forwarding list of a small postoffice like Ardway, where probably not

Weak Heart
Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alternative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Sylvatica), Black Cherrybark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no drugstore could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.

more than ten families move away in ten years?"

"I did not examine it closely," I replied, "but even if I had I am afraid I would have failed to identify it as important."

"If you had seen the name of Andrew Elser in it," said Davis, "would you not have examined it?"

"Was his name there?"

"Yes, and also the names of the Bridgeport victim and Dora Hastings and Rouser Eberle. It was Young or Henry who sent out the yellow letters and checked the list, using just plain, ordinary shorthand for such words as 'Sent,' 'Answered,' 'Five Thousand.' Fortunately, the list shows that while more than five hundred letters were sent out, hardly a dozen brought responses, and in only three cases had money been received."

"Was General Farrish's name on the list?"

"No," answered Davis sleepily, "but I hardly expected to find it there."

"And the letters sent out," I persisted, "were they the yellow letters?"

"Of course."

"What was in them?"

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

A homer, three triples and five doubles were included in the Giant's twenty hits made off three Cincinnati twirlers. Larry Doyle made five hits.

The Reds are still two full games ahead of Chicago.

Kaler's airtight twirling, aided by Larruping Larry Lajoie's hitting and fielding, whitewashed the Yankees.

Carl Thompson, hailing from Georgia university, followed Quinn on the mound for the Yankees, and was all the way in. In four innings he struck out four men and allowed only two hits.

A measly Texas leaguer by Moran with two out in the ninth inning pushed the winning run across the pan and Brooklyn had defeated the Cubs.

After His Umps benched Doern and Seaton, the Phillies' battery for kicking, the Cardinals batted Schulz out of the box.

The Pirates forced the Boston Braves to walk the plank, mainly through the efforts of Hans and Mike, Wagner accepting nine chances brilliantly and Donlin clouting for the circuit with two men.

NOT THE RIGHT TOGO

REPORTERS INTERVIEW JAPANESE WHO TURNS OUT NOT TO BE FAMOUS ADMIRAL

CHICAGO, June 6.—M. Togo registered at the Auditorium Hotel yesterday with several other citizens of Japan and at once a bevy of newspaper reporters surrounded the small man pointed out as Togo and began to get his opinion on various subjects.

"Admiral," said one zealous scribe, "what do you think of the likelihood of the future wars?"

"The greatest war is over," was the serious reply. "Henceforth all will be peace."

Pencils zig-zagged over pads like lightning. Other questions were propounded and answered until the reporters who were doing the Auditorium had probably the best story and certainly the best interview of the day to offer their city editors.

Then shaking hands all around, M. Togo introduced himself. He was not the great Admiral Togo who harassed the Russian fleet. He was Mr. M. Togo, secretary of the Japanese Red Cross society.

CUMMINS' BOOM REVIVES

BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST

A Simple Remedy Beautifies the Hair, Cures Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 6.—Returning in high spirits from a long horseback ride, Theodore Roosevelt today asked the newspapermen gathered at Sagamore Hill for the latest returns from South Dakota and then refused to comment.

Asked about the renewed assertion from Chicago that the Roosevelt delegates would go into caucus there early next week, and that Roosevelt would be there the colonel just grinned.

"That's their own guess," he said, but he added that he believed he would get a square deal from the republican national committee because the committeemen will have to face their constituents after the convention. Medill McCormick and Gifford Pinchot were expected at Sagamore Hill for luncheon.

The Heroes of War

Live For Us Again

In the New History by Henry W. Elson, Illustrated by the Famous Brady War Photographs, Issued in 16 Splendid Sections by The Tribune.

In a series of wonderful Civil War photographs we make the personal acquaintance of the generals who commanded the men and boys who fought in that greatest of National conflicts. The above picture (drawn from the photograph) shows us as actual scene of war time taken when the cannons were roaring. In other no less wonderful photographs we see Grant, Lee, Sherman, Jackson, Sheridan, Stuart and many more—and perchance in one of these old-time groups we look into the face of some comrade or near of kin, while the accompanying text, clear and interesting, tells you every detail you wish to know.

Who Was There That YOU Knew?

The Civil War Semi-Centennial is celebrated fittingly by this time-liest of publications. Just at the time when that great struggle is uppermost in everybody's mind and memorable battles and events are being lived over again—when old and young want to see WHAT THE MIGHTY CONFLICT REALLY LOOKED LIKE—these famous Brady Photographs, long lost, have been discovered and published. The Tribune is glad to announce that it has secured exclusive rights to the remarkable series for this city.

I. & S. TEAM TO PLAY NORTH SIDERS

LA CROSSE ATHLETES TO MEET ONALASKANS

The North La Crosse baseball club has scheduled a game with the I. & S. nine for Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Copeland park, and an interesting game is looked for. Both teams have been playing good ball of late and each is confident and determined to defeat the other, so the strongest line-up will be presented when they meet next Sunday. Olson, the southpaw twirler who has been doing excellent work on the slab for the North Siders this year, will be in the box for North La Crosse, and Charley Bott will do the receiving. With Olson pitching in form the North Siders expect to defeat the I. & S. team.

The La Crosse Athletes and the Onalaska baseball team will cross bats at Onalaska Sunday in the first game that these teams have played with the other this season. The Athletes scheduled the game with Onalaska after they had agreed to play the North La Crosse club in case they did not play at Houston, Minn., Sunday, but the game with Houston will not be played, and the Athletes refused to give the North Siders a game. Several weeks ago the North La Crosse team defeated Onalaska 9 to 4, Olson allowing but three hits.

BEERS 10 CENTS PER

MILWAUKEE SALOONISTS DISCUSS RAISING PRICE OF AMBER FLUID TO CONSUMER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 6.—The high cost of drinking was added to the high cost of living in the country's greatest beer making and beer consuming city yesterday.

Representatives of Milwaukee's 2,200 saloons and cafes today met in conference to decide some method of combating a substantial advance demanded by all local breweries for beer furnished the middlemen. The brewers contend that the high cost of malt and barley used in making the brew necessitates an advance in price. The saloon and cafe owners assert that this makes necessary a raise in price to the public and to the ultimate consumer must be the goat.

Since a statistician recently made public figures showing that the Milwaukee per capita consumes five glasses of beer daily, the situation thus created was looked upon as serious today and an investigation was said to be contemplated to determine of grounds for the advance in the price of the "commodity" was justified by the brewers.

Several systems of "getting even" were planned by the saloon and cafe men in conference today. Smaller glasses for the price now charged, more foam on each schooner and less beer or an increase from 5 to 10 cents per glass for the prevailing size were among plans advocated.

BEERS 10 CENTS PER

MILWAUKEE SALOONISTS DISCUSS RAISING PRICE OF AMBER FLUID TO CONSUMER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 6.—The high cost of drinking was added to the high cost of living in the country's greatest beer making and beer consuming city yesterday.

Representatives of Milwaukee's 2,200 saloons and cafes today met in conference to decide some method of combating a substantial advance demanded by all local breweries for beer furnished the middlemen. The brewers contend that the high cost of malt and barley used in making the brew necessitates an advance in price. The saloon and cafe owners assert that this makes necessary a raise in price to the public and to the ultimate consumer must be the goat.

Since a statistician recently made public figures showing that the Milwaukee per capita consumes five glasses of beer daily, the situation thus created was looked upon as serious today and an investigation was said to be contemplated to determine of grounds for the advance in the price of the "commodity" was justified by the brewers.

Several systems of "getting even" were planned by the saloon and cafe men in conference today. Smaller glasses for the price now charged, more foam on each schooner and less beer or an increase from 5 to 10 cents per glass for the prevailing size were among plans advocated.

SPECIAL WATER MEET

ALDERMEN DISCUSS MAYOR'S HARMONY MEETING; TO RECOMMEND PLANT WITHOUT BIG RESERVOIR

The special water committee of the city council last night decided to install the well system without the reservoir, in case the council kills the issuance of $150,000 bonds at the special meeting called for tomorrow night. In order to carry through the proposed plans for the system with a reservoir it will be necessary to issue $150,000 more bonds. At a recent meeting of the council it was found that the majority did not favor the issuing of more bonds. However, it is thought probable that the bonds may be voted at tomorrow's meeting.

However, in case this is defeated, the construction of a reservoir will be deferred for a few years.

The special water committee informally discussed that private conference of the mayor, city engineer, board of public works and city attorney, held at the city hall yesterday for the purpose of allaying the friction which has existed between the well and river factions, and which resulted in the announcement that all will act in unison in the future. No action was taken by the water committee either endorsing the secret conference or condemning it.

TO EXTERMINATE REBEL NEGROES

Gomez Issues Orders to Troops to Take No Prisoners in Quelling the Revolt

MILLION DOLLARS FOR WAR

Cuban Congress Appropriates Sum to Crush Rebellion to Death in Haste

HAVANA, June 6.—With Pres. Gomez formally suspending municipal guarantees in Oriente province today, congress voted an appropriation of a million dollars to carry on a war of extermination against the negro revolutionists.

An unverified report was received here to the effect that Gen. Estenoz, leader of the rebellion, had been killed. The government is investigating to determine whether the report is correct.

Capt. Iglesias took the field in Oriente today with a picked force of 250 sharpshooters who are advancing against the rebels with instructions to shoot them down.

"Take no prisoners," was the order given Capt. Iglesias.

The report from Oriente of the brutal attack on a former high-Cuban official, who was tied while his wife and two daughters were outraged and his son murdered before his eyes, has so inflamed public anger that the most extreme measures are demanded. It is announced that from this time forward the rebels will be given no quarter. The government plans to depend on the American marines to protect foreign property along the southern coast, the whole forces of the government troops will be urged forward in the campaign of extermination.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Orders are being prepared at the navy department today which will send the dreadnoughts Florida, Utah, Delaware and North Dakota to Key West not later than Saturday.

The order sending the four battleships is in line with the present policy of the navy department to keep eight battleships at Key West as long as the Cuban revolution continues.

At the war department today it was intimated that this week will tell whether the United States will intervene. The administration will wait to see if the presence of four battleships at Guantanamo and nearly 1,700 marines guarding American property in Oriente province has any effect.

DOPED DRINK IS THOUGHT CAUSE OF MAN'S DEATH

nothing could be done for him and he wasted away until death relieved his sufferings.

His wife and children moved to their present home on Twelfth street near the hospital so that they could be near him in his trouble. The matter was never taken to the police for investigation, it is said, because members of the family feared the publicity which they believed would result.

Mr. Foerster made many friends during his forty-one years of life in this city. He was engaged in the meat business for several years, served two terms in the council as alderman from the Eighth ward. Many of the improvements to the streets and other departments are credited to his activity in the council. Up to a year ago he was in the best of health and accounted one of the strongest men physically in the city. He bore the reputation of being temperate in all things and a man of remarkably clear judgment. His word had more than common weight in party councils and he was an honored and respected member of the Eighth Ward Aid society.

Mr. Foerster is survived by two daughters, Lillian and Madeline, the oldest of whom is 12 years, and his wife, who is employed in one of the downtown department stores. The funeral was held from the home on Wednesday.

"DRYS" OF COUNTY IN CONVENTION

Chafin, Candidate for President, Delivers Opening Address at Onalaska

URGES WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Says County Option Is a Failure; Declares He Is Not a Candidate

Splits in all of the leading political parties which have characterized the present campaign, will result in the formation of a new party with higher moral standards, is the declaration made by C. W. Chafin, former candidate for president, in the opening address of the La Crosse county prohibition convention held at Onalaska today.

Mr. Chafin, who is now one of the leading prohibitionists in line for the nomination this year, spoke on "Administration by Government." He declared that county option is a failure and said that the country does not need laws to regulate the liquor traffic by administration. He is making a tour of the United States and has been speaking in Wisconsin cities during the last few weeks.

Says He Is Not Candidate
Mr. Chafin today declared that he will not be a candidate for the presidency during the present campaign and that he is not in the field for the nomination but many of his party declare that it is probable that he will be the selection of the national delegates and that in that case he will undoubtedly accept the nomination as a party duty.

He urged that all rally to the support of the equal suffrage movement at the fall election when this question will be before the people in the form of a referendum vote.

"Prospects for the prohibition party are better today than they have been at any time in the past," said Mr. Chafin. "With the splits in the other parties and the almost sure formation of another party in sight, the prohibitionists are bound to gain strength."

Oliver Needham of the town of Holland, chairman of the county prohibition committee opened the convention by a short address, summing up the county situation. Following his address Rev. W. C. Snow of Onalaska delivered the invocation.

This afternoon's session opened with a discussion of candidates for delegates to the state convention. Delegates will be elected to the state prohibition convention to be held at Madison, late this afternoon. Officers for the county party will also be selected. The state convention will select delegates to the national convention. They will also draw up a state party platform.

BIRDMAN TO FLY AT ANNUAL FAIR

Interstate Fair Association Signs Contract with the Curtis Exhibition Company

FLIGHTS ALL FAIR WEEK

Huge Crowds Expected to See Greatest Exposition of the Kind Given in Western Wisconsin

A series of aeroplane flights by some noted aviator, possibly Hugh Robinson who became famous all over the United States by his flight in a hydro-aeroplane down the Mississippi valley and well known in La Crosse by his exhibition in this city last summer, have been arranged by the Interstate Fair association with the Curtis Exhibition company of New York.

The flights, which will take place at the fair grounds in La Crosse September 24, 25, 26 and 27, or all during fair week, will be the biggest exhibition of its kind ever given in Western Wisconsin. According to the contract which was returned to C. S. Van Auken, secretary of the Interstate Fair association from the Curtis company yesterday, the company binds itself to send either Robinson or a man of equal reputation to make flights of at least thirty minutes duration each of the first three days and fifteen minutes the last day, no matter what the weather conditions happen to be. If the weather is such that the aviator is unable to make flights of such long duration the company is to be paid accordingly. Thus it is to the interest of the aviator and his company to stay in the air as long as possible.

Aviators Enjoy Flying
In writing to Mr. Van Auken, Glenn Curtiss, one of the most famous flyers in the world himself said that it is very probable that if the weather conditions are favorable, the aviator will stay in the air much longer than his contract time for the simple reason that flyers enjoy the sport of flying as much as the spectators and if their machines are working well they prefer to remain above the earth as long as they can.

Mr. Curtiss, in speaking of the aviator who will be sent to La Crosse, said that the company was unable to contract to send Robinson at this time because of the fact that Mr. Robinson has been engaged to take charge of one of the company's aviation schools on Long Island this summer. He said, however, that the company's reputation was a guarantee of satisfaction more tangible than the name of any aviator and the man they chose to send would be the best at their command.

Lecturer to Explain Aeroplane
The contract signed by the fair association is more liberal than any signed with exhibition companies of former years because no bonus was required for the appearance of the aviators. The fair association also contracted for the right to put the two aeroplanes, which will be sent, on exhibition. A skilled mechanic will be sent to lecture on the parts and construction of the novel machines and this part of the entertainment will be valuable because of its educational features.

At the request of the fair association, the terms of the contract call for no spectacular stunts on the part of the aviator while in the air. Believing that the public would prefer to see a plain exhibition of straightaway flying rather than spiral glides, volplaning and "dips of death," the fair directors asked that the flyer confine his flights to distance and speed flights. This request according to Mr. Curtiss is a most unusual one but one that the company will most gladly comply with. He said that the time is fast approaching when all aviators will refuse to make exhibitions which are merely a risk of life to thrill the crowd.

To Attract Huge Crowd
Believing that the aeroplane exhibition will bring more people to La Crosse during fair week than ever attended before, the committee of directors will make a strong appeal to the citizens and business men of the city for liberal donations to pay the expense of repairing and improving several buildings out at the fair grounds and to support the big drawing cards of the fair this year. The association has enough money to get the fair well under way this year as far as advance advertising is concerned but it is necessary that liberal donations be made in order for the big annual event.

SEAT IN SENATE TO BE CONTESTED

Republicans in New Mexico Slip One Over and Elect Their Man by Trick

DEMOCRATS WILL FOLLOW

Solon Will Be Chosen to Claim Seat in Higher Body Against Choice of Republicans

SANTA FE, N. M., June 6.—Six democratic members of the legislature today ridiculed the claim of the republicans that United States Senator Albert B. Fall was re-elected for a six year term beginning next March, at a meeting of members of the house and senate last night. The senate held a session yesterday noon at which fifteen republicans voted for Fall for senator and one for Andrews. The democrats and progressive republicans refused to vote. The senate then demanded that the house go into joint session with it. The house refused. After a great deal of maneuvering, the senate sprung a surprise last night. After routine business had been disposed of, eighteen members of the house suddenly appeared in the senate chamber. The sergeant at arms locked the doors and the senate overruled Lieutenant Governor De Baca, democrat, and declared itself in joint session. Although twenty-one members of the house were absent, a ballot on the senatorship was taken and Fall got 32. The presiding officer ruled that 37 votes were necessary to elect. The republicans laughed at this ruling and then adjourned.

The democrats of both houses plan to hold a similar "joint session" this afternoon and elect some one else senator. By a combination of one regular republican and the progressives they can master more than 37 votes, which is a majority of all the votes in both houses. It is believed that ultimately the fight will have to be settled by the United States senate. Fall's present term expires March 4, 1913.

FIRST SKIRMISH OF BATTLE ON IN COMMITTEE

Members here that Roosevelt had demanded that Dixon go into the committee and had arranged for the proxy, but that after it was planned, Dixon refused to sit with the committee.

While the committee cleared the decks for action the paid attorneys of the contesting forces, former Senator Dick of Ohio for Taft and Ormsby McHardy for Roosevelt, wrestled with great voluminous briefs preparatory to the real fight for representation on the floor. The first contests to come up were those of Arkansas, Alabama and Arizona. It was not believed that they would be disposed of until late on Saturday and it was certain that the ruling in all three would be in favor of the Taft men.

Steam Roller Ready
Believing that the followers of the president had gotten out and thoroughly oiled up the steam roller popularized by Colonel Roosevelt's lieutenants four years ago when the claims of the "allies" were ruthlessly shattered, the Roosevelt leaders today were suggesting that the committee should seat all of the contesting delegations and split the vote between the so-called regulars and the contesting representatives. But the Taft people declined to consider any such suggestion.

While the committee met to wrestle with the temporary roll of the convention the big party leaders were in almost constant conference at their hotels. Not in years—since 1880 to be exact—has the outcome of a convention been as doubtful and the party war horses have hastened to the scene far in advance of their usual time to render first aid, if possible.

Control of the convention is in the hands of the uninstructed delegates and while both sides claim them, and will continue to do so, it will not be until the roll is called on the makeup of the temporary organization that the suspense will be ended.

Recall New Factor
A new factor in the situation developed today when some of the Pacific coast delegates arrived with drafts or suggested planks for the platform. One of these is a sweeping endorsement of the recall of all officials—including the judiciary, and it seemed certain at the start that this plank alone would cause dissension in the Roosevelt camp. Colonel Roosevelt himself has privately assured the progressive leaders that he would be willing to have the recall of judges endorsed, but in a number of states where Roosevelt delegates have been elected this suggestion is not popular. The Taft leaders prepared to trade on this fact and seemed hopeful that it might give them a decided advantage at least in the organization of the convention.

It seemed certain today that the selection of United States Senator Elthu Root for temporary chairman would be ratified by the convention. After talking with Washington and New York over the long distance phone, Harry S. New, chairman of the sub-committee on arrangements, declared that Root was the choice of nearly two-thirds of the elected delegates.

Root Permanent Chairman
The plan of the convention leaders today was to have temporary organization made permanent thus continuing Root as permanent chairman. It was pointed out that this action would prevent a second fight over a new permanent chairman, and also that, because of the intricate questions of parliamentary procedure that might arise, Root was the best man that could be put in the chair. This plan, however, was opposed by some of the leaders who insisted that Root should not be given all of the limelight and was subject to revision later on.

The revised list of the contests as announced by William Hayward, secretary of the national committee was as follows:

Alabama, 22; Arizona, 6; Arkansas, 16; California, 2; Florida, 12; Georgia, 28; Indiana, 10; Kentucky, 16; Louisiana, 20; Michigan, 6; Mississippi, 18; Missouri, 14; North Carolina, 6; Oklahoma, 20; Tennessee, 8; Texas, 28; Virginia, 20; Washington, 14; District of Columbia, 2.

It was the general belief today of both Roosevelt and Taft leaders that the only contests that Roosevelt would win were in Washington state and possibly in Texas.

The more sympathy a man generates the less money he hands out.

delegates have been elected this suggestion is not popular. The Taft leaders prepared to trade on this fact and seemed hopeful that it might give them a decided advantage at least in the organization of the convention.

It seemed certain today that the selection of United States Senator Elthu Root for temporary chairman would be ratified by the convention. After talking with Washington and New York over the long distance phone, Harry S. New, chairman of the sub-committee on arrangements, declared that Root was the choice of nearly two-thirds of the elected delegates.

Root Permanent Chairman
The plan of the convention leaders today was to have temporary organization made permanent thus continuing Root as permanent chairman. It was pointed out that this action would prevent a second fight over a new permanent chairman, and also that, because of the intricate questions of parliamentary procedure that might arise, Root was the best man that could be put in the chair. This plan, however, was opposed by some of the leaders who insisted that Root should not be given all of the limelight and was subject to revision later on.

The revised list of the contests as announced by William Hayward, secretary of the national committee was as follows:

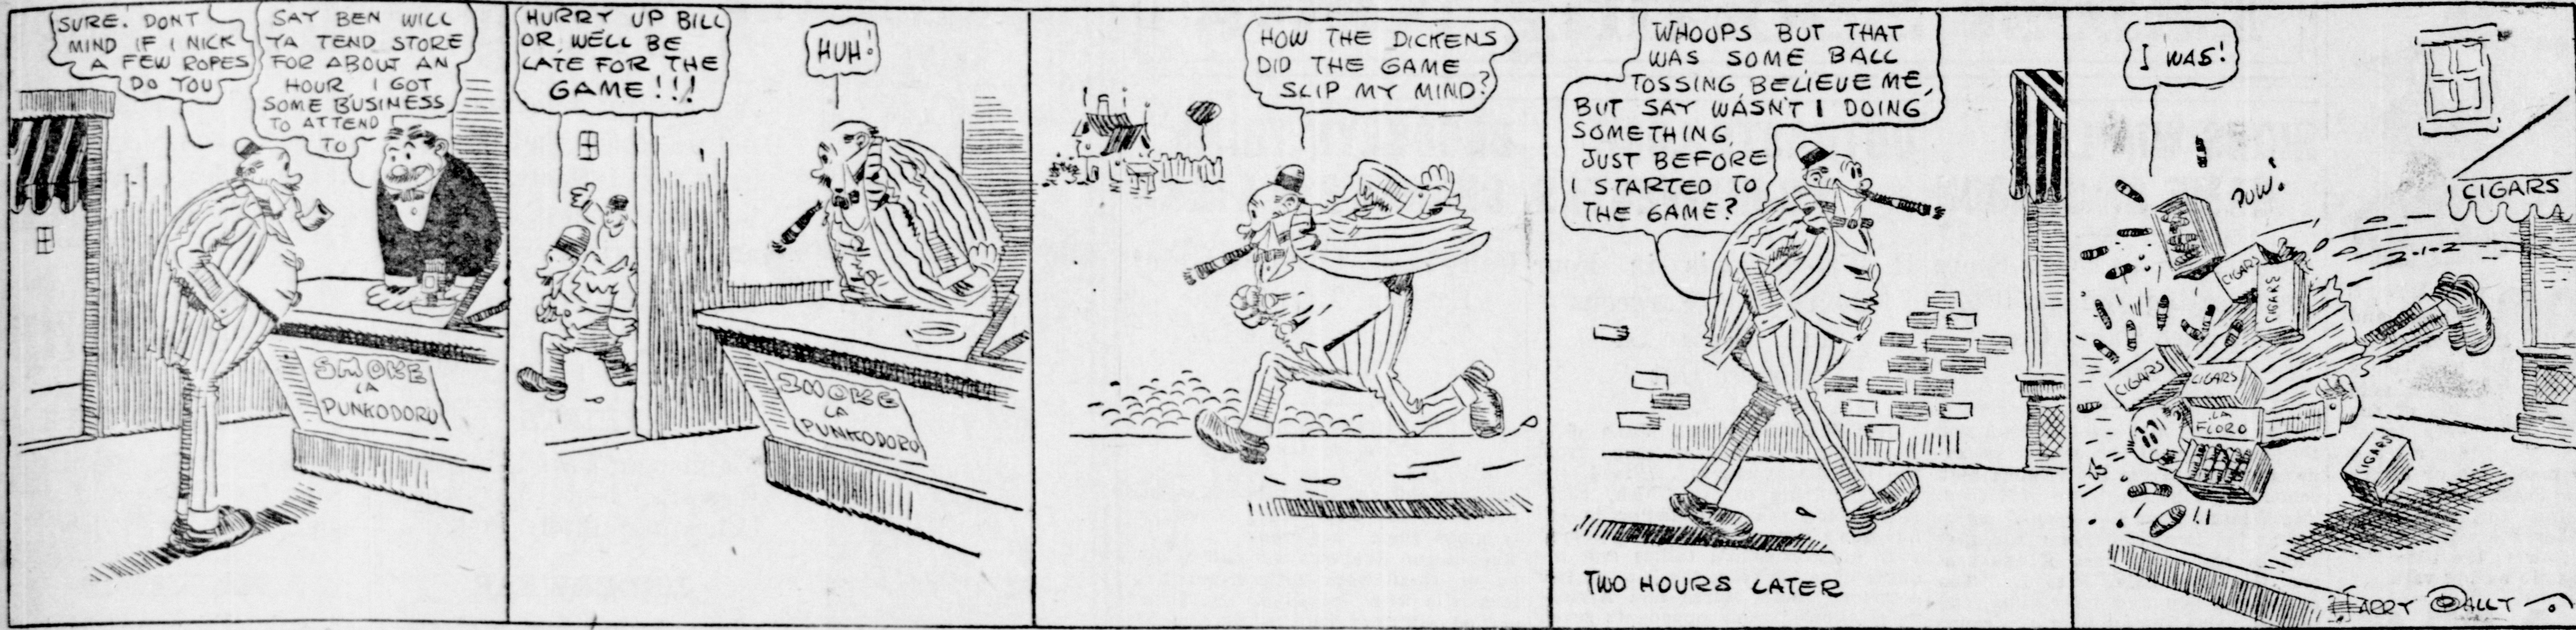

Alabama, 22; Arizona, 6; Arkansas, 16; California, 2; Florida, 12; Georgia, 28; Indiana, 10; Kentucky, 16; Louisiana, 20; Michigan, 6; Mississippi, 18; Missouri, 14; North Carolina, 6; Oklahoma, 20; Tennessee, 8; Texas, 28; Virginia, 20; Washington, 14; District of Columbia, 2.

It was the general belief today of both Roosevelt and Taft leaders that the only contests that Roosevelt would win were in Washington state and possibly in Texas.

The more sympathy a man generates the less money he hands out.

TO TRAIN FLYNN DOWN TO WEIGHT

LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 6.—Fireman Jim Flynn will enter the ring weighing 190 pounds or even less, if Tommy Ryan's plans do not go awry. He declared Flynn must get down much lower, so that he will have speed against the strength of the negro.

Jack Johnson jarred the natives today by announcing that hereafter he will not give free public boxing exhibitions. Instead, he will charge ten cents a head. He has carpenters at work building seats around the ring he has erected in the backyard of his training quarters so that all spectators may be accommodated.

HORINE BREAKS ALL MARKS IN TRIAL

NEW YORK, June 6.—The athletic world caught its breath today over the announcement that George L. The mark will not stand as a new record because it was not made in open competition, although the jump was witnessed and measured by experts.

HIGHS WIN LAST GAME OF SEASON

Baseball Team Evens Score by Beating Winona 6 to 3; Each Takes One Contest

The high school baseball team won the last game of the season yesterday afternoon from the Winona high school team by the score of 6 to 3. The Winona team is the only one to defeat the locals this year and that was in the early part of the season, the score being 5 to 1. The game was fast and interesting, the feature being the pitching of Krause for the locals, who allowed the visitors three hits, two of them being on the scratchy order. He fanned thirteen men. Noem was there with the stick, securing two hits and two runs, besides he fielded in perfect style. Kohler, the Winona pitcher, held the locals to seven hits, fanned one and allowed one walk.

On account of the Viroqua high school baseball team refusing to play the locals this season, the La Crosse high school claims the high school baseball championship of the state. The locals have not lost a game to any high school team in the state and they have played six high school teams among them being Tomah, Bangor and Galesville, teams which have defeated many other high school teams before the locals met them.

Wm. Frisch, the speedy little red headed second baseman, has been elected captain of the team for next year. He is a heady player, who knows the game from start to finish and he should be a capable leader. Score: R H E Winona . . . 000101010—3 3 4 La Crosse . . . 2010200—6 7 6 Batteries: Kohler and Prosser; Krause and Spellum.

TRIALS AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 6.—Broken records are looked for next Saturday when the Olympic trials are held at Northwestern field. The list of entrants was completed today by E. C. Brown, chairman of the Olympic committee, and he said fierce fought contests may be looked for in every event. Chairman Brown today said he expected to have $30,000 for the Olympic fund from the middle west.

OUTCASTS LOSE TO ROCHESTER

R. Walsh Clouts in Four Tallies for Surgeons and Beats La Crosse Out

ROCHESTER, Minn., June 6.—Rochester won another game from the Outcasts yesterday, 7 to 4, the timely hitting of R. Walsh, backstop, being the main factor in the Surgeons' victory. His batting scored four of Rochester's tallies and his swats gave his team the lead on two occasions. Both Morse and Armontrout allowed their opponents seven hits and pitched good games.

The Outcasts finish their series at Rochester today and they will return to La Crosse with the Surgeons to open up a three game series beginning tomorrow and closing on Sunday.
